Hi -- Hope your summer has been great! We have not had many major events so far this summer related to Hwy 36, except for this email. This is just an FYI.

Have a nice Thursday!
Linda

Subject: Highway 36 Public Health Assessment for Final Partner Review - Due September 19

Hello,

In our last Principals Meeting, we decided that there would be one more round of review with partner agencies for the Highway 36 Public Health Assessment. We have incorporated your previous comments, and have attached the proposed final draft in both redline and clean-copy formats. Some additional changes beyond those discussed in the Principals Meeting reflect comments from the EPA. The most noticeable changes related to EPA's comments are the insertion of statements about the baseline conditions of fall 2011 sampling and that the EI has not systematically examined urine or environmental conditions immediately following pesticide exposure as was originally planned in the 2012 sampling protocol. Another notable addition resulting from EPA comments is a statement about household dust as a pathway that was not explored due to technical and logistical limitations.

In addition to the two versions of the PHA report, you will also find the revised talking points and draft summary fact sheet.

Hopefully comments will be minimal, given that this review is to verify that we have adequately incorporated your previous comments as discussed in the Principals Meeting. If there are any comments, please have them to me by September 19th.

We propose to release the report later in September or early in October once we've considered any further editorial suggestions.

Thank you all for your attention to this report,
